Arnon Nampa and numerous activists, Thailand

Dozens of activists are imprisoned for exercising their rights to freedom of expression and peaceful assembly, with at least 25 charged under the lèse-majesté law. Arnon Nampa, a courageous human rights lawyer, and over 20 activists are in pre-trial detention without bail. Fourteen others are serving convictions under lèse-majesté (Penal Code Article 112), with sentences as high as 43.6 years in prison.

Arnon, a prominent figure in Thailand's pro-democracy movement, faces severe punishment simply for peaceful protest and freedom of expression. Known for his advocacy, he has championed social justice, democracy, and the rule of law, often at great personal risk. Arnon has provided free legal support to other activists and defended individuals facing unjust charges under restrictive laws.

In a major crackdown on dissent, Thai authorities have targeted Arnon and others under the harsh lèse-majesté law, which threatens anyone who speaks out with lengthy prison sentences. Currently, Arnon is serving over 14 years in prison, with more cases that could add up to 150 years if convicted.

Urge the Prime Minister of Thailand to end the repression and release all political activists and human rights defenders imprisoned for exercising peaceful expression.

SHARE ARNON'S STORY AND JOIN THE MOVEMENT TO PROTECT FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION IN THAILAND.

Urge the Thai government to end the repression and immediately release Arnon Nampa and all activists imprisoned for peaceful expression. Stand with us to defend freedom and human rights in Thailand!
